

b. Definition of Confidential Information. “Confidential Information” means any information, technical data or know-how (whether disclosed before or after the date of this Agreement), including, but not limited to, information relating to business and product or service plans, financial projections, customer lists, business forecasts, sales and merchandising, human resources, patents, patent applications, computer object or source

For information

In Machine Learning, is not a secret and not patentable

Idea, principle, mathematical formula

Patentable, but has no value

Algorithm

Maybe a secret

Model parameters

A secret

Personal data, medical records